

What's Coming Next

It's almost Release Day! for my next novel,
Who: A Novel of the Near Future.
Who will be available on December 8, 2016,
through my imprint Oblique Angles Press.

Here's the cover (a collaboration between me and designer David Leek).

I once again took part in National Novel Writing Month this year, writing a very rough draft of what would be my first Young Adult novel. I say “would be” because I’m not yet sure whether I’ll end up editing and publishing this draft, and if so, when. I may, instead, experiment with writing a draft outside NaNoWriMo. I’m considering a book elevating one of my favorite secondary characters – the judge in Division, Playback Effect, and Who – to protagonist status.

Please stay tuned -- and thanks for reading!
